

BASIC SIGNAL FLOW:
LIVE STAGE SCENARIO

In a live performance there are two types of sound that need to be accounted for. The first is the front of house. The second is the monitor sound. The monitor mix is critical so the band can hear themselves. If the band cannot hear themselves, mistakes are more prone to occur. This is why a good monitor mix is so important so the band can have a good performance and achieve the best sound possible.

BASIC SIGNAL FLOW:
MBOX AND PC

